DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed December 12, 2003 fails to comply with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97, 1.98 and MPEP § 609 because it is not signed and therefore has not been entered. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered as to the merits. Applicant is advised that the date of any re-submission of any item of information contained in this information disclosure statement or the submission of any missing element(s) will be the date of submission for purposes of determining compliance with the requirements based on the time of filing the statement, including all certification requirements for statements under 37 CFR 1.97(e). See MPEP § 609 ¶ C(1). This IDS also has the four references cited on the IDS of January 16, 2001, which was considered by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 33, 34, 36 and 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dunsworth (4522861).

Art Unit: 1772

Dunsworth teaches a photo-luminescent material 28 contained within channels 14 in a substrate 12. The material is mixed with a resin (i.e. carrier/fixer). Refer to figures 1-3 along with column 2, lines 59-68 and column 3, lines 1-17.

4. Claims 33-37 and 39-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by either Connew (4998391) or Glatz et al (5904017).

Connew also teaches a photo-luminescent material 14 contained within channels 13 in a substrate 11,12. The material is mixed with a plastic material (i.e. carrier/fixer). This rejection is specifically made in order to address the limitations of claims 35 and 39, in that the material be flush with the surface of the substrate or entirely contained within the channels (see column 5, line 2). Also refer to figure 1. See figures 3, 4, 7, 9 in Glatz et al which shows photo-luminescent material 312,410,708,902 contained within channels in a substrate. The material is mixed with a plastic material (i.e. carrier/fixer).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 38 and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Connew (4998391) or Glatz et al (5904017) in view of the applicants discussion of the prior art luminescent materials.

The primary references teach the invention substantially as recited except for the additional flow or degassing additives in the luminescent material. Connew does teach that paint or the like can be used for the luminescent material (column 4, lines 58-60 and column 5, lines 25-29).

On page 8, lines 14-19 the applicant discloses that the luminescent materials are known and would be apparent to the skilled artisan (note spelling).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to the primary references to include a flow or degassing agent in the luminescent material, as is known in the art, motivated by the fact that the materials are known and Connew discloses that other forms of materials can be used for the luminescent material.
